CIVIL DEFENCE DEPARTMENT CIRCULAR NO.607/43.

Subject:- Further reduction of Government of India, Civil Defence Schools.

Sir,

In view of the improvement in the war situation and of the fact that a very large number of students have now received training it is considered that one Government of India School will be able to deal with future requirements.

It has been decided, therefore, to establish a school in the premises at present occupied by the Government of India Civil Defence Specialist School, Bombay. This school will be known as the CIVIL DEFENCE TRAINING COLLEGE. The still existing Government of India schools comprise the following and the closing dates are shown against each:-

Name.	Closing date.
1. The Civil Defence Staff College, Lahore.	25th September 1943 (on completion of course No.25).
2. The Civil Defence Specialist School, Bombay.	25th October 1943 (on completion of course No.12).
3. The Civil Defence Instructors' School,(Hyderabad (Deccan).	12th October 1943 (on completion of course No.12).

2. The allotments to Course No.26 at the Staff College, Course No.13 at the Specialist School, Bombay and Course No.13 at the Instructors' School, Hyderabad, together with all allotments to courses at the Staff College and Schools after the above mentioned courses are being re-allocated to the Civil Defence Training College.

3. Three types of course will be available at the Civil Defence Training College as follows:-

(a) The 'Officers Course'

(b) The 'Specialist Instructors' Courses with Rescue, Casualty and Wardens' wings. The Wardens' Course will be slightly expanded so that it will also train Class I and II Instructors who in the past have gone to the Instructors ' School at Calcutta or Hyderabad.

(c) An Anti-gas course for which Class I and Class II certificates will be issued.

4. The Officers' Course. This course will be that already given at Courses Nos.24 and 25 of the Staff College at Lahore at present known as the "Training and Incident Officers" Course". This course is suitable for officers responsible for Civil Defence measures including inter alia A.R.P. Officers, Senior Staff Officers and Officers responsible for General A.R.P. Training and the training of Incident Control officers.

5. The Specialist Instructors' Course.

(i) The Casualty and Rescue Wings will remain unaltered. The syllabus for the Wardens' Wing has been remodelled so that this wing will now give a combined course to train Class I and II Instructors as well as Wardens' Specialist Instructors simultaneously.

(ii) Those who pass through it successfully will receive two types of certificates, (1) as an Instructor Class I or II in I.B., H.E., & U.X.B. (as at present) and (2) as a Warden's Specialist Instructor of the higher or lower grade (as at present).

(iii) To obtain the higher grade certificate as a Warden's Specialist Instructor (i.e. the qualification to train local instructors in that subject) the candidate will also have to qualify as a Class I Instructor in all three subjects - I.B., H.E., & U.X.B.-but he will not be required to sit for the examination in any of these for which he already holds a Class I Certificate.

(iv) Similarly, an already qualified Warden's Specialist Instructor of the higher grade who attends the new course will only be required to take the examination in I.B., H.E., & U.X.B.

(v) In order tobe able to complete this combined course at the Warden's Wing in three weeks the number of students in the Wardens' Wing at each course will be reduced to 15 instead of 25 as at present.

6. Anti-Gas Course.

(a) This course will last one week, including the examination, and Class I and Class II certificates will be awarded.

(b) The Anti-Gas Courses will be given at the College concurrently with the first week of the Officers' Course and the outstanding applications for allotments for Anti-Gas trainig will be fitted into these courses subject to the condition that students attending the Anti-Gas course must fall in one of the following categories:-

(i) Have taken the Staff Officers' course at the Staff College.
(ii) Have taken the Training and Incident Officers' Course at the Staff College and have been awarded a Class I or Class II Certificate.
(iii) Hold a Class I or Class II certificate for the new Officers' Course at the Civil Defence Training College.
(iv) Hold a Specialist Instructors' Certificate (of either grade). in the Casualty, Rescue or Wardens' Wing of the Government of India Civil Defence Specialist Schools or the new Civil Defence Training College.
(v) Hold a Class I or Class II certificate from the Government of India, Civil Defence Instructors' Schools or a similar certificate awarded at the new Civil Defence Training College.
(vi) Be a past student of the Civil Defence Industrial School.
(vii) Be a medical practitionery.
(viii) Be a permanent Government servant of or above the rank of Sub-Inspector of Police (or equivalent in other Services).

(c) If it is desired that persons, who do not qualify as above, should attend the Anti-gas Course, it is suggested that they might attend the Instructors' Course immediately preceding the Anti-gas Course, in any Wing, (i.e. either Casualty, Rescue or Wardens'), and stay on for the Anti-Gas course. This would entail their remaining at Bombay during the week's break between Courses which, it is thought, would be preferable to the undertaking of a possibly long journey twice in order to attend two courses.

7. The programme of courses for the remainder of the year 1943 at the new Civil Defence Training College is:-

Course No.1 (Officers' Course) from 1-11-43 to 22-11-43.
(N.B.) There will be no Anti-Gas course concurrently with course No.1. The First Anti-gas course will run concurrently with course No.3 for Officers).

Course No.2 (Specialist & Class I & II) from 29-11-43 to 20-12-43.
(Instructors' Course.)

Any existing applications for vacancies which cannot be accommodated at these courses will be allotted to the succeeding courses held in 1944.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
Sd/- S.A.Iyengar,
for Deputy Secy. to the Government of India.

CIVIL DEFENCE CIRCULAR NO.620/43.

Subject:- Demand for vacancies at the Civil Defence Training College, Hyderabad.

Sir,

I am directed to refer to Civil Defence Circular No.607/43, dated the 3rd September 1943, and to say that due to accommodation requirements of higher priorities in Bombay it has been decided to locate the Civil Defence Training College at Hyderabad (Deccan). In this connection, I am to request that Provincial Government's Your firm demand of vacancies, likely to be required during 1944 for various types of courses mentioned in Civil Defence Circular referred to above may kindly be intimated to the Government of India not later than the 15th November 1943.

Deputy Secretary to the Government of India.

To - All Provincial Governments/Chief Commissioners.
CIVIL DEFENCE CIRCULAR NO.621/43.

Subject:- Instructors' Courses at the Government of India Training College, Hyderabad.

Sir,

With further reference to this Department's Circular No.607/43 dated 3rd September 1943, the necessarily intensive nature of the new Combined Wardens, Specialist and Class I and II Instructors' Wing makes it even more important that nominees to this wing should have had previous A. R.P. training and be at least holders of Class III Certificates. In this connection, it is desired to draw the attention of Provincial Governments again to our Circular letter No.78/161/41-ARP of the 3rd November 1941.

Although the training covered in the course referred to above is that which was formerly carried out in the separate full length courses for Wardens and Class I and II Instructors, all the essential material has been retained with, of course, the necessary revision and improvement to bring the instruction up-to-date. The principal time saving has been effected by the omission of reference to German and Italian bombs of all kinds, in view of the extreme unlikelihood of their being encountered in this country.

I have, etc.,
Sd/- R.A.Gopalaswami,
Deputy Secretary to the Government of India.
